In order to ensure a source of consistently superior teak wood that is also environmentally friendly, we develop and maintain our own teak plantations.

Fifteen years ago, we planted hundreds of thousands of trees in Costa Rica in an effort to reforest areas of the country that had been denuded. The trees are tended with expertise and care, producing the finest teak wood in the world.

Each of the plantations is managed in a sustainable, environmentally sound way so that our part of the rainforest will remain permanently preserved.

These versatile planters offer terrific value and are designed not to require liners. All hardware is stainless steel. Holes in the base as well as teak footings underneath provide great drainage in outdoor settings.
